Budget description

This is an amended budget request: We are asking for speaker fee and publicity funds for a recently confirmed inspirational speaker. Juan Melendez will be coming to Chapel Hill to speak at 6pm on Tuesday, October 30th. The event will be free and open to the public.

THE INJUSTICE OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Juan Melendez, as an innocent man, languished on Florida’s death row for almost eighteen years. Had it not been for the fortuitous discovery of a taped confession of the real killer, sixteen years after he was convicted and sentenced to death, he would almost certainly have been executed. His legal case highlights all of the fundamental problems of the death penalty but his story is also a profoundly personal one of human resilience, courage, faith and hope—one that educates and inspires at multidimensional levels. Since his release from death row on January 3, 2002, without anger, hatred or bitterness towards those responsible for his wrongful conviction and death sentence, he has been sharing his uniquely powerful story with thousands of people throughout the country and abroad. Indeed, Mr. Melendez’s story is so compelling that he reaches people all across the political spectrum. publicity - $5

Mission Statement

The group was founded for the purpose of fostering a community that is more conscious of the effect of the death penalty on society. Our objectives are to build awareness of the discrepancies presented by capital punishment on certain socio-economic and racial classes, as well as the effect on society at large. We utilize the law school community to help conduct post conviction jury interviews, moratorium efforts, client visits, as well as to bring educational and inspirational speakers.

Budget description

I am requesting that the BSM - Black Ink Magazine be put on the agenda for the Finance Committee hearing on February 5th. In this years budget we were appropriated money for one issue of our Black Ink Magazine under printing and publicity, and that was used for our fall semester/40th anniversary edition. The editors/executive board want to do another for the spring semester, with a tentative print date of February 29, 2008. We are requesting $1,700.00 to fund this. Thank you!

Mission Statement

A key component of the BSM is the Black Ink Magazine. Black Ink, founded in 1969, is the official publication of the Black Student Movement. The magazine is published twice a year, once each semester, and features the work of BSM writers, copy editors, graphic artists, and photographers. Black Ink highlights the goings-on of the organization and university news, as well as tackling such weighty issues as sex trafficking and HIV/AIDS among the black community.

Budget description

Funds needed for printing the November and December issues of the magazine. Funds needed for office supplies, including paper (cardstock, matte, glossy) for promotional materials, and ink for our printer. $600 needed for a promotional event to take place on Oct. 27 at a local venue, TBD for both staff members and the university community to learn about our publication.

Mission Statement

To inform readers of the unique personalities, events and traditions that define the University's heritage and help shape its future. To offer staff members practical and enjoyable journalism, business and management experience. Blue & White is produced by students at UNC-CH and is funded at least in part by student fees, which were appropriated and dispersed by UNC-CH's Student Government.
Budget description

$139 – dues for the Associated Collegiate Press, an organization geared toward educating journalists, as well as recognizing their talents through various awards and contests; its annual Pacemaker award is nationally renowned as a symbol of Journalistic excellence; also allows for the recognition of talented advertising, photography and design students.

$6419.56 – Each of our issues costs $1604.89 to print. The amount requested will exactly meet our needs for the Spring semester’s issues.

$350 – Over the years, many of our racks and signs have disappeared from campus. We’re requesting this money to purchase racks and signs to be placed across campus so more people will have access to our magazine.

Mission Statement

Blue & Whites mission is twofold. First, it is to inform readers of the unique personalities, events, and traditions that define the University’s special heritage and help shape its future. Second, it is to offer staff members a learning lab in which to understand classroom concepts through meaningful and enjoyable application of journalism and management skills.

Below are some of our costs

Budget:
$40.00 per image (Wolf Camera) for photo exhibition/ 10 images: $400
Glossy boards to mount images: $50
Printing for Brochures: $100
Small photos for student awareness materials: $45

We are asking for money to design educational Materials to use both at the University of North Carolina as well as local Chapel Hill elementary schools this semester in November. Free the Slaves will be setting up a photographic exhibition in the Stone Center and in the Global Education Center that will spread awareness about the issue of modern day slavery. These photos were taken by a Free the Slaves member who traveled to Ghana to work with an anti-trafficking NGO. We will also design brochures for the exhibition that will seek to educate about this issue. We will be able to use these materials far into the future for other awareness events. We will also be using these photos at local elementary schools where we will engage the students in this issue. Students will then design their own fundraising project for a local anti-trafficking NGO in Ghana, West Africa. We are seeking money from student congress as well as various departments on campus to help defray the costs of photo development, photo enlargement, printing, boards for the photos, and other materials needed to display the photos. We also want to put together an educational package that is appropriate for the younger children in elementary schools, as well as a package to send home to their parents.

Mission Statement

Free the Slaves is a campus Y organization that seeks to spread awareness about the horrific issue of modern day slavery and human trafficking. We work in the context of the UNC campus as well as in the local community. We have hosted a speakers series for the past three years, shown various documentaries, and engaged in other efforts that increase the understanding of this issue on campus and in the community.

Budget description

This year, the Carolina Classics Graduate Group has invited Professor Barry Strauss of Cornell University to speak at the Classics Colloquium to be held March 28-29th in Murphey Hall on the UNC campus. He is the head of the peace council and a very well known professor not only in classics, but through the History Channel and his popular books on the Peloponnesian War. As such, he was expensive to get as our keynote. He is flying from Ithaca New York and there is no direct flight to RDU, thus his airfare is quite high (ca.$490). We will attract not only graduates, but undergraduates and the general populace to his talk, and as such we believe he is well worth the $500 honorarium.

Mission Statement

The purpose of our organization is to foster interest in the Classics at UNC and to spread knowledge of current research in the field. Every year 8 speakers from around the country and one keynote comes together to speak about all aspects of the classical world–both Greece and Rome. There is a speaker on the night of March 28th and then at 9 am on March 29th, the colloquium commences. The 8 speakers present in panels all day and then the keynote, Barry Strauss, speaks at the Murphey Hall auditorium. Following this, there will be a meet and greet with the professor and general interaction with professors and students. We are asking for money to supplement the travel costs for Barry Strauss (airfare) and for his honorarium, which is a standard of $500, he has informed us. We have already verbally agreed to this amount, and need to supplement our current budget to allow for him to come.
culture. The program is open to both undergraduates and graduates and provides two days of interaction with professors, graduates, and students.

Budget description

We are asking for $3000 to bring the nationally recognized speaker Andres Lara. The $3000 includes travel, lodging, speaker fees, and promotional materials. He will speak October 9th 2007 at either 6 or 7 pm in the Sonya Hanes Art, as well as leading workshops in the afternoon.

Andres Lara, recommended by Jon Curtis, was scheduled to be the keynote speaker for our Hispanic Heritage week. He will be speaking on Tuesday Oct 9, which is national Latino Education Advocacy Day (LEAD). We are planning on having him speak at the Hanes Art Center at night and he will be doing a workshop during the day. This money will be used to pay for all travel, lodge and speaker fees for the nationally recognized Andres Lara. It also comes with 100 free books and promotional materials. The asking price was $3,500 and CHispA was able to bring it down to $3,000.

Mission Statement

CHispA's goal is to spread awareness across campus, as well as the surrounding community about the Hispanic Culture. It helps educate all those (both Hispanic or non-Hispanic) who have an interest and passion for the Hispanic culture.

Budget description

Our newly formed club is looking to purchase 2 used, adult-sized Chinese Lion Dance lions from the Triangle Area Chinese American Society for practice purposes. As we do not have any lions right now, these lions will also be used for performances, although they are not top performance quality. The lions are around 10 years old and cost $150 each. We intend to use them for practice and for training new members in the years to come (they will be used for at least the next 5-10 years).

We will also need a drum ($200), a gong ($70), cymbals ($70), and a buddha costume ($80) to perform complete lion dance routines. These items will be purchased new.

Mission Statement

Carolina Lion Dance Club is a newly formed club striving to promote Chinese culture through the traditional Chinese Lion Dance. We have performed extensively for campus-related events in the past three years, including ASA’s Journey into Asia, VSA’s Viet Night, CUSA’s Lunar New Years Gala, and Campus Y’s Catalyst Conference. We also perform for local schools via the Carolina Navigators program. Our members experience growth through cultural enrichment and physical exercise.

(15) Pocketed folders: 10.35 @ .69 each
(4) Binders: 7.96 @ 1.99 each
The presentation trifold will be used when any of the club’s taskforces are tabling in the Pit or presenting at any sort of conference as an informational tool. The pocketed folders and binders will be used for the organization of the Administrative Committee with the goal of documenting and maintaining institutional memory.

Printing and Publicity Expenses:
Handouts for Classes: $40.50
Paint supplies: $40.00
Microfinance Conference Flyer Advertising: 180.00 (4000 @ 0.0.45)
The Club’s Outreach Taskforce will be giving presentations on CMI and Microfinance in classes throughout this semester and next. As a part of the presentation they will provide the class with an informational handout. The club assumes an average of 1.5 presentations per month.

Paint supplies will be used to paint the cubes in the pit as a means of advertising. Buying our own paint and supplies will be much cheaper than renting the Union’s paint cart considering that we would like to paint the cube on a regular basis to announce our workshops which will be on topics of interest for the whole student body (for example “Microfinance and Global Health”). We will buy mis-mixed paint which we can get for $5 a gallon from Home Depot.

In the spring, CMI will host a large Microfinance Conference. This is the largest goal of the year. It will be a huge event, generating publicity for the University as well as CMI. There is also the potential for collaboration with Duke University’s Microfinance club. This event will be open to the entire campus. It is with the goal of making this a major event that we are requesting 4000 flyers.
Mission Statement

Through microfinance, the Carolina Microfinance Initiative empowers the poor with the resources to lift themselves out of poverty. CMI also empowers students as responsible global citizens and social entrepreneurs. CMI educates the UNC campus and broader community, serves as a microfinance think-tank and research center, and concentrates and connects microfinance resources. CMI develops knowledgeable field volunteers, researchers, and innovators for the growth of successful microfinance.
Budget description

The above requested expenses are to bring John Hatch to campus to speak on April 11th. His speaking engagement will be the capstone event of Microfinance Week, a week long event put on by CMI to generate awareness and involvement in Microfinance in the entire student body. John Hatch is the founder of FINCA International, one of the leading and most widely recognized microfinance organizations in the world. He is recognized as a pioneer, innovator, leader and advocate in the field of microfinance. He will address students on the afternoon of the 11th in Carroll 111, as well as attending meet and greet and q/a style events during the day. This event will be open to all students. He will also address a group of MBA students on Thursday, April 10th. He will be staying three nights at the Carolina Inn at a university affiliated rate of approximately $150 per night and is receiving an honorarium of $1200.

Budget description

Our organization, through its efforts this semester and last, has qualified for two bids to the National tournament sponsored by the American Mock Trial Association. This tournament is a three-day event to be held at the Shelby County Courthouse in downtown Memphis, Tennessee from March 14-16. The money we are asking for will be to cover the cost of travel, lodging and registration to compete in said event. The registration fee for each team is $200, so with two teams competing, the total cost of registration is $400.

In order to transport 16 competing members to and from Memphis, we will require 4 privately-owned cars which our President will approve. The trip is 1440 miles. Using the Provisions and Restrictions for Special Types of Expenditures outlined in Title V Section 607(e)5 of the Student Code, the reimbursement is .445 cents per mile. This comes out to $2,563.20 total; however, we expect the actual cost of gas and oil to be significantly less and understand that the lesser amount is what will be reimbursed.

To house 16 competing members at a three-day competition, we require four rooms each with two double-beds for three nights. The Holiday Inn at Sycamore View (901-388-7050) has quoted us at $34.99 per room for Thursday night, and $44.99 per room for Friday and Saturday nights. At these rates, the total cost of lodging will be $499.88.

Mission Statement

To compete in tournaments of the American Mock Trial Association. We teach our members about courtroom procedure and precedent and refine their reasoning and public-speaking skills. Members are asked to perform as lawyers and witnesses on both the prosecution and defense sides of a fictional case, using materials supplied by AMTA. The participants then perform these roles against other universities’ teams who also prepared the same case. Performances are judged by actual lawyers and judges.

Budget description

Funding would pay for a week-long seminar with an international Kung Fu Master (see program explanation below). Expenses will include a plane ticket from Budapest, Hungary to RDU, ticket departing 4/17/08 with a returning flight 4/29/08. Also included will be Master Velin’s food (he would board with the organizational president). Additionally, fliers to advertise the seminars, which will take place twice a day on campus for two hours at a time. We will also have to pay Master Velin for the time spent teaching here.

MONKEY KUNG FU MASTER SEMINAR

Our group, Carolina Monkey Kung Fu, would like to request funds for a seminar with an international Monkey Kung Fu Master. Carolina Monkey Kung Fu studies the Ta Sheng Pi Qua style with the guidance of a practitioner named Gyorgy Hinar Polczer. Mr. Polczer has trained for over eighteen years under the direction of Master Marin Velin. Master Velin has been teaching the Ta Sheng Pi Qua style of Traditional Monkey Gong Fu for over twenty years. He owns and operates his school Chu Li Shao Kung Fu School Hungary at Az Atjaro located in Budapest, Hungary. We would like to bring Master Velin to the UNC Campus to hold a week’s worth of free seminars open to any UNC student or affiliate. He would teach two seminars a day lasting two hours apiece. The seminar would be the week of April 21st through the 25th, and classes would be held everyday at the Carolina Union and other recreational facilities on campus. Funding would pay for a week-long seminar with an international Kung Fu Master (see program explanation below). Expenses will include a plane ticket from Budapest, Hungary to RDU, ticket departing 4/17/08 with a returning flight 4/29/08. Also included will be Master Velin’s food (he would board with the organizational president). Additionally, fliers to advertise the seminars, which will take place twice a day on campus for two hours at a time. We will also pay Master Velin for the time spent teaching here.
Mission Statement

To teach and spread the knowledge of traditional Monkey Kung Fu (Ta Sheng Pi Qua style) to any UNC student or affiliate willing to learn. No other martial arts group on campus teaches such a martial art. We take pride in providing these lessons free of charge.
Carolina Passport

Budget description

All of the funding that Student Government would provide to Carolina Passport Magazine would go directly to printing of the publication. This Spring we are printing 10,500 copies (4,500 to go directly in C-TOPS and T-TOPS packets). Our total cost of printing this semester is $8,912. Student Government’s contribution would help tremendously (other sponsoring organizations are the Associate Provost for International Affairs and the Center for Global Initiatives).

Mission Statement

Passport’s mission is to promote and facilitate international awareness and learning for all Carolina students by: Exposing students to international education opportunities, specifically at the undergraduate level Serving as a venue for UNC-CH students to share their experiences as a result of studying abroad, conducting international research or participating in other international activities
Budget description

This semester (Fall 2007), we are printing 7,500 copies of Carolina Passport Magazine. The estimate we received for the total cost of printing is $6,040. We have received funding from the Associate Provost for International Affairs and the Center for Global Initiatives thus far, but need funding from the Student Congress to contribute to our printing bill. We would appreciate the same amount of funding ($2,571) that we have received in past semesters from the Student Congress.

Fall Projects: 5 8mm projects supposed at 5 minutes each and with a 3:1 ratio. This would assume 4 reels of film stock per production.
Spring Projects: 2 16mm projects supposed at 15 minutes each and with a 3:1 ratio. This would assume 6 reels of film stock per production.

24 HOUR FILM EXTRAVAGANZA

Participants will have 24 hours to write, shoot, and edit short films to be screened later the following evening. MiniDV tapes (5) $10.00/tape = 50.00

FALL/SPRING FILM SCREENING

We will screen the films made by students in the Guild one evening in December. We will also screen the films made in the Spring one evening in April/May. Minimal printing costs for making flyers.

Mission Statement

CPG’s mission is to provide the means necessary for producing expressive and artistic short films. By empowering students with a knowledge of the process, techniques, and skills, needed to produce such films, we strive to promote creative expression and independent thought. We strive to provide student filmmakers with the equipment otherwise unattainable for someone with no budget. The Guild also hopes to give students the skills necessary to begin a career in film production.

Budget description

Our budget, as you can see, is devoted mainly to printing, publication, and distribution of the Quarterly. The quality of our publication, and the extent to which we are able to distribute the magazine, depends upon adequate funding for this process. Our office and administrative needs are relatively small, as nearly everything we make from sales of the journal to subscribers goes back into the printing of the magazine. Since we missed the funding cycle last year, we are now applying for subsequent appropriations in order to fund the printing of our winter and spring issues for 2008. We have researched the most competitive bids for the printing of the magazine, and the best price we have come up with for 2008 is $3,000 per issue to print and distribute the journal. We are asking for $5,000, assuming that we will make $1,000 in subscriptions, bringing our total for this semester to $6,000 and allowing us to print both issues.

Our Winter 2008 issue $3000 to print and distribute

Our Spring 2008 issue $3000 to print and distribute

Mission Statement

CQ is the oldest literary magazine in North Carolina and one of the oldest in the state. We work to bring the best of contemporary writing to UNC (issues are free to students) and to enable students to contribute to the magazine’s content, production and distribution. A top priority of recent editorial administrations has been giving graduate and undergraduate students a chance to work together in learning the business of publishing through internships in poetry, fiction, layout, and publicity.

Mr. Klusendorf will speak on April 8 or 15th in Peabody 104 or Bingham 101.

DR. JOHN DIGGS

John R. Diggs, Jr., MD is an African-American, board-certified internist who has put his medical training and 15 plus years of clinical experience to work in developing a series of messages advocating the sanctity of human life and the proven benefits of sexual restraint. Dr. Diggs will be speaking during February to coincide with Black History Month. Dr. John Diggs’ honorarium is $2000 plus lodging and airfare. One night’s lodging is $90 and the airfare from Hartford, CT is $238.

SCOTT KLUSENDORF

Scott Klusendorf, Life Training Institute President, travels throughout the United States and Canada training pro-life advocates to persuasively defend their views in the public square. He contends that the pro-life message can compete in the marketplace of ideas if properly understood and articulated. Nationally, he had participated in numerous debates at the collegiate level. After Scott speaks, he encourages those in the audience to debate him on the pro-life issue. Scott’s honorarium is $3500 plus travel and lodging. Lodging is $90 and travel from Atlanta, GA is $263.
Mission Statement

Carolina Students for Life is an organization that is committed to promoting the pro-life position in the community, providing educational opportunities for its members, and caring for women and families affected by abortion.

Printing: We are using the Union design services to advertise Vagina Monologues and the events within V-Week (Feb. 10-15)

Speaker Fees: Published author Robert Jensen is flying in from Texas to speak at V-Week. He has waived his speaking fee but still needs a flight and 2 nights accommodation (Feb. 12-14)

Travel: Five core members of our organization are planning to attend V-Day’s 10th anniversary celebration in New Orleans. We are requesting funds to subsidize the cost of the trip in order to represent UNC, network, and strengthen our own campus organization. (April 11-13)

Production: The Vagina Monologues will be using Union production services, which requires that 2 people be present during dress rehearsal and 2 performances. At 4 hours for each run-through and $10 an hour per person that comes to $240 (Feb 14-16)

Robert Jensen- published author and professional speaker. His lecture will focus on the ways in which pornography affect college relationships.
We also need funds for printing to advertise this event. We must pay for his plane fare and lodging.

THE VAGINA MONOLOGUES

Well-known play by Eve Ensler that raises awareness surrounding many issues in women’s lives, which affect all people. We need funds for printing to advertise for this event as well as programs for the show.

We need funds to pay for Union production services, which are required to put on this play.

Admission: $10 at door, $8 in advance

V TO THE 10TH

10th anniversary celebration of the V-Day organization in New Orleans’ Superdome. We will be honoring Katrina survivors and attending workshops to network and increase our impact on the community. We need funds to subsidize the cost of travel and lodging for 5 core members of the organization.

Admission: $34

Mission Statement

Carolina V-Day Initiative works to raise awareness and funds to end all forms of violence against women.

Printing and Publicity: 2,800
We will be printing our second issue for the year this semester. We print two editions of the literary magazine every year, one per semester. Last semester our invoice from Patterson Printing totaled $2,730.41. We expect nearly the same cost this semester as well. We use Patterson because we have established a relationship with them, and we have found their prices to be the cheapest.

Programming: $100
At the end of this semester we will host our second gallery exhibit at Open Eye Cafe. We will need 100 exactly to cover the cost of renting the space and catering for the opening night.

GALLERY EXHIBIT AT OPEN EYE CAFE

Student artwork will be exhibited for one week at Open Eye Cafe in Carrboro. On the opening night of the exhibit we will host a poetry reading selected from works in our magazine.
The total cost from last semester for the same event was exactly $100. This covers space rental and catering.

Budget description

We are requesting Printing and Publicity funds for the purpose of general advertisement of the club and its activities throughout the school year. In particular, we have begun a public discussion forum, called ‘Devil’s Advocates’, that meets weekly and is open to any student wishing to debate religion and religious worldviews. This forum is being held in addition to our weekly group meetings on Wednesday nights. Crucial to the success of these debate forums are the distribution of flyers. In addition, we hope to bring in 1-2 speakers this year for larger discussion forums, events that would be publicized primarily through the distribution of flyers.

Relatively little was printed last year due to the smaller size of group and fewer planned events; we have currently twice as many members this year and the addition of the weekly DA discussion forums to our semester schedule.

With regards to Building/Venue rental, ‘House Staff fees’ are now required for the reservation of rooms outside the Student Union. This is a new requirement in effect this semester, hence the subsequent request. Rates are $10/hr, and as we need rooms twice per week (for Devil’s Advocates meets on Mondays and weekly group meetings on Wednesdays), for 2-3 hrs per night, we are being charged $60 per week. This amounts to a total of $600 for the rest of this semester and $800 for the upcoming spring semester. If unable to match the request of $1400, we ask that the immediate need of $600 for this semester’s room reservation fees be matched.

Equipment rental fees are requested for the general rental of projectors/LCD screens from the Events Planning Office, as needed per event.

DA is a public debate forum, held weekly on Monday nights, and is open to any and all who wish to debate any religion/religious worldview against the Christian faith. Speakers of both sides are welcome to host the debate, and a general Q&A session following is the primary method of group involvement and learning. Initial meetings held the previous few weeks have been promising, and met with enthusiasm. The only current request is that of funding for reservation of rooms outside of the Union, being charged at a rate of 10$/hr for a 3 hr. slot on Monday night for DA.

Mission Statement

Christian Apologetics of Carolina is a student organization at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill which has been founded for the purpose of the defense of the Christian faith and its concurrent beliefs among the student populace of UNC-CH, to both the Christian and non-Christian alike. We wish to answer any and all critics who oppose or question the revelation of God in Christ and the Bible, and emphasize the credibility of the Christian world view.

Budget description
We would like to print a total of 1200 flyers and post them around the campus. $1200 * $0.035 = $42.
This total will be allocated to two different events. See the information below for detailed descriptions.

PUBLIC LECTURE BY BB&T CORPORATION CHAIRMAN AND CEO

We will co-sponsor a Public Lecture by BB&T Corporation Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, John Allison, presenting “Leadership and Values.” This event is scheduled to take place on November 15, 2007 at 3:00pm. The Stone Center Auditorium has been reserved. There will be no honorarium paid for this event. We would like to print 1000 flyers and post them around the campus. 1000 * $0.035 = $35.
We would like to advertise on the Slice website and ActiviTV. The student organization rate is $25 plus a $25 design fee for a total of $50.
Should the total expense be less than $50, we will return the difference to Student Government with the appropriate accountability documents.
Total Requested: $85.00

LECTURE ON VON MISES BY AN AUSTRIAN ECONOMIST

We will host a lecture by an Austrian economist who has documented the work of the world-renowned economist Ludwig von Mises. von Mises was mentored Friedrich Hayek who was the recipient of the 1974 Nobel prize in Economic Science.
The works of these two economists laid the foundations for what is known as “Neo-Liberal” economics which has had a profound impact in economic policy-making around the world. We would like to print 200 flyers and post them around the campus. 200 * $0.035 = $7.
Also, we would need to pay for her transportation costs. More specifically for a one-way trip to Greensboro. We estimate* that this would cost $100.
Total Requested: $107.00
Based on the feedback from 4 different taxi companies.
Mission Statement

The Carolina Economics Club is intended as a resource to all members of the UNC community. We seek to foster a better understanding of applicable and relevant economic issues within our society. We organize events, lectures, debates and discussions periodically to engage and educate the UNC community on the economic aspects of relevant issues in society. Our mission at the Carolina Economics Club is to help students discover applications of economics to addressing real-world problems.

Educational Supplies
- During each of our dance performances, we use videotapes and film developing to publicize ourselves to our campus and community. Since we still are a relatively unknown group, publicity is crucial to our growth as an organization.

Dues and Fees
- In order for us to perform at shows/competitions, there often is a registration fee.
  o Sangam Nite 2007: each person was required to pay $10 to be in Sangam, so that she could perform.
  o Mercer Competition: each person paid $15 to perform
  o Aaj Ka Dhamaka: ticket price

Printing and Publicity
- In order to let the community know about our newly formed team, we’ve used fliers, posters, etc. to advertise events in which we have performed.

Travel
- Mercer Competition: We drove 3 cars to Georgia and back and spent two nights in a hotel for the duration of the competition.

Production
- We’ve spent money to buy and stitch 11 costumes/outfits from India.

Equipment/Equipment Rental
- We bought equipment to videotape our performances.

These expenses are from the following events at which we have performed:
- Arabian Night
Mission Statement

Ek Taal is a classical south Asian dance student organization at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill which has been founded for the purpose of spreading awareness of traditional dance by performing and competing as a team at campus events as well as in the local community. This classical dance is called Bharatnatyam which originated in Tamil Nadu of India. Dancers use structured gestures, rhythmic movement, and facial expression to portray a story.

Budget description

We are requesting $240 for fees to the annual GlobeMed Summit Workshop in Chicago to be held March 3-5, 2008. Airfare for 6 members of our organization would cost $260*6 = $1560. The event cost is $45 per person*6 = $240. It includes accommodations and summit materials.

In late March, we would like to hold a two-day 3 on 3 Basketball Tournament to provide exposure for to our brand new organization and acquire funds. We request $240 to pay referees in order to ensure the highest standards of fairness and honesty.

Two referees would cost approximately $120 per day at $10/hr for 6 hours. Two referees per day at $120 = 240.

We would like to hold a two-day 3 on 3 Basketball Tournament to provide exposure for to our brand new organization and raise funds for the vitality and continuation of the organization for future years. Games would be played in different categories, regardless of gender or skill. We request $240 to pay referees in order to maintain the highest standards of fairness and honesty.

Two referees would cost approximately $120 per day at $10/hr for 6 hours. Two referees per day at $120 = 240.

Admission: $30-40 per team

Mission Statement

GlobeMed is a national non-profit organization that connects student-led chapters at universities across the United States directly to health organizations around the world.
By forming partnerships and designing innovative health projects, we allow ourselves and members of the community to engage, educate, and enable. Enabling students to construct change will allow them to deepen their own education. Educating our students and community will provide a greater capacity to improve global health.

Spanish and Portuguese. The interdisciplinary nature of the conference provides for a wide range of topics and discussions addressing not only Romance Literatures but also Comparative Literature, Cultural Studies, English, African-American Studies, etc. for both undergraduate and graduate students, professors, and members of the wider Chapel Hill community.

This year’s keynote speakers are Rosa Beltrn and Lise Gauvin. Rosa Beltrn is a Mexican writer, journalist, translator, and professor of Comparative Literature at Mexico’s National Autonomous University (UNAM). She is the author of three books of short stories, La espera (1986), Amores que matan (1996), and Cambios cosmicos (2006) and three novels La corte de los ilusos, El paraso que fuimos and Alta infidelidad among other things. Her short fiction has been translated into English, French, Dutch, and Italian. In 1994, she was recognized by the American Association of University Women for her literary critical work on twentieth century women writers. In 1995 she received the prestigious Premio Internacional de Novela Planeta/Joaquin Mortiz. In 1997 her book of essays, America sin americanismos was awarded the Florence Fishbaum Award. Rosa Beltrn is currently working on a historical novel.

In addition to the keynote speakers, a spotlight presentation will be given by Santiago Roncagliolo, a Peruvian author who was named new talent by the FNAC for his collection of short stories Crecer es un oficio triste (2003). His last children’s book, Matas y los imposibles (2006) won the international White Raven Prize from Munich’s Library. His novel, Abril rojo was awarded the distinguished Premio Alfaguara in 2006, and it is being translated into more than twelve languages.

The CCRL is grateful for past support provided by the Student Congress and hopes that it will again provide speaker fees as well as transportation, lodging and printing costs. We are confident that with the help of Student Congress, the 2005 CCRL will be a great success.

Lecture by Dr. Timothy Paul Jones, Author and Speaker

Dr. Jones (Ed.D.) is a professor in the School of Leadership and Church Ministry at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. He is also the author of a response book to Dr. Bart Ehrman’s (New Testament professor here at UNC) book Misquoting Jesus entitled Misquoting Truth. He will be dealing with issues of textual criticism, authenticity of the Biblical texts, and the history of the various movements within the early Christian tradition.

We anticipate demand for this will be extremely high. We are advertising through use of a cube, starting a facebook group, and by circulating flyers over campus, including the Religious Studies Department.

We are planning on two presentations: one at 5:00 in Hanes Art Center and one at 8:00 in the Great Hall. We hope to engage not only students but also faculty. Our anticipated attendance is 750 students and faculty between the two presentations. Travel (Airfare): Total round-trip for 2 on American Airlines from Louisville is $503.00.

Hotel: He will be staying at the Carolina Inn for the night of Jan. 24th. The cost of the room is $179.00. We are requesting $75.00 for lodging.

Honorarium: $750
Total Cost: $1328.00

KALEIDOSCOPE FASHION SHOW

Our Fall 2007 fashion show will be held at La Residence during our Fashion Week. At the fashion show, we aim to increase awareness of the magazine. We also use the fashion show as an opportunity to include Carolina students in a creative and unique activity outside of their regular events. Casting for the fashion show is open to all UNC students, and we always like to feature anyone and everyone who is confident enough to walk the runway. It is also our second most important event, as it generates buzz for our big release party. Venue- $300

MAGAZINE RELEASE PARTY

Our Fall issue release party will most likely be held Thursday, November 15th at The Library on Franklin Street. This event commemorates the first time our issue will be seen by Carolina students and we also congratulate our staff for a semester of very hard work. It is, by far, our biggest event of the Fall season. Unlike last year’s Release Party, we have already confirmed campus performers who are also featured in the magazine, and we plan to integrate our student models as well. Venue- $200
Mission Statement

Kaleidoscope Fashion Magazine fills the creative void all other campus publications leave out. We are Carolina’s first and only fashion magazine, however, our issues contain more than simply fashion trends. We are unique in that our magazine features social pieces, home and lifestyle pieces as well as entertainment guides. We are Carolina’s source for all things entertaining and trendy on and off campus. More importantly, we highlight beauty in every form, both inner and outer, in everyone.

Budget description

Mezcla prints 2 issues, one per semester, every year. This is for the 2nd issue of the 07-08 school year. According to TriangleWeb, our printer for every issue to date, the price for a 24 page issue, all 4-color would be $1249.73.

Mission Statement

Mezcla is a bilingual magazine on campus. We deal with and bring attention to issues and characteristics of the bilingual Spanish-English community on campus, in Chapel Hill, and in NC. In particular, we are concerned with issues of political, economic, social, and cultural (to name a few) issues that concern the bilingual community.

Budget description

Mezmerhythm will have it’s annual Spring Show on April 10, 2008 in the Union Auditorium. For this event, our organization will need the production services from the Student Union to put on this event. Production Services has estimated that the total cost of production will be $360. Therefore, this is the cost I have estimated for our capital expenditures. In addition to the production costs, we will also need money for our costumes for the several dances we will be performing. We currently have approximately $80 for our costumes. I have budgeted an additional $120 for our costumes. These monies should be able to cover our spring show. This is the only major event that our organization has. We did not have a show last year, so we really need these funds to put on our spring show.

Mezmerhythm will host it’s spring show on April 10, 2008. This will be a performing arts event that concentrates in dance. Our show will host other performance groups on campus in addition to several Mezmerhythm performances as well. This is Mezmerhythm’s only opportunity to promote our group in a significant way, so we really want to be able to put on a great show! Production Services provided from the Carolina Union that includes sound, security, set-up, etc. will cost a total of approximately $360. Our costumes will total approximately $200. We already have enough printing and publicity funds to advertise our event with fliers and print tickets.

Admission : $3

Mission Statement

The purpose of our organization is to promote dance to our fellow students in numerous areas. Our organization promotes ballet, modern, jazz, tap, latin, and hip hop, just to name a few. We perform in various events on campus and we have a big performance of our own in the spring as well.

ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM

The North Carolina Journal of International Law and Commercial Regulation is a student-run legal journal at the University of North Carolina School of Law in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. This year, the Journal is conducting a symposium on extraordinary rendition entitled: Extraordinary Rendition: The State Secrets about the War on Terror.
This symposium will address the legal propriety of extraordinary rendition, the alleged practice of transferring suspected terrorists to foreign governments where harsh interrogation methods can be used outside the reach of United States law. The discussion will focus on the policy implications of shielding information about these transfers through the states secret privilege, with a particular emphasis on the recent Fourth Circuit decision of Khaled El-Masri. Also, participants will reflect on the authority of international treaties, and the appropriate forum and applicable laws for citizens of foreign governments who bring suit against the CIA. Participants will also consider the local effects in light of recent allegations that private North Carolina companies are sponsoring some of these extraordinary rendition flights to foreign governments. The symposium which is hosted annually will include two panels of internationally renowned academics, practitioners and global leaders. The symposium is open to students, faculty, and staff at UNC for free and any other individuals that wish to attend for a small fee. Attendees have the opportunity to listen to presentations from some of the world’s most prestigious thinkers and writers on the issue and have the opportunity to engage in one-on-one dialogue in the Q&A sessions and at the symposium breakfast and lunch. NCILJ does not pay its speakers an honorarium; instead we compensate them for their travel, lodging, meals, and incidentals. Our speakers are dedicated to expanding the scholarship in a given topic and area. In order to publicize the event, we distribute a large number of brochures to UNC alumni, local organizations interested in the subject matter of the symposium, and relevant organizations at schools in the area (including UNC, Duke and Central). We will provide breakfast and lunch at the symposium and each attendee receives a registration packet.

This symposium is an important step into the global arena for the UNC School of Law, and the entire UNC community. Our symposium benefits a large breadth of populations including local alumni who we expect to attend in order to support a prominent UNC graduate who will be speaking, Judge David Sentelle. We anticipate attendance from students in all disciplines but specifically UNC law students, School of Government graduate students, and undergraduate students interested in government, law, political science and international studies. The event is open to the public and we anticipate a large turnout from other schools in the area due to a collaboration with and participation from professors at both Duke and Wake Forest.

Mission Statement
The North Carolina Journal of International Law and Commercial Regulation is a student-run legal journal at the University of North Carolina School of Law in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Now in its thirty-third year of publication, the Journal is dedicated to stimulating the intellectual climate through legal scholarship in the area of international law. In order to achieve this goal, the Journal publishes four issues each year that include writings from academics, professionals, and students. Recognizing the need to foster discussion of international law in the general public discourse, the Journal holds an annual symposium that focuses on important issues in international law and brings together the entire legal community for an illuminating discussion and debate.

Budget description

The North Carolina Journal of Law & Technology publishes twice a year. Our costs for publication last year totaled $7,361.42. Each publication consists of 2 professional articles, written by professors or practitioners, and 4 student articles, written by NCJOLT staff members and edited by upperclass members. 126 law libraries subscribe to the journal, which is also accessible on Westlaw, the largest online legal database. This year, NCJOLT plans to supplement its print publications by vastly expanding its online publication of student articles. Please visit www.ncjolt.org. The requested funds will be used exclusively towards the publication of Volume 10.

Mission Statement

The primary purpose of NC JOLT is to publish excellent student and professional articles that discuss current issues at the intersection of law and technology. In pursuit of this aim, students learn how to cite check using the Blue Book and how to make substantive edits.

Budget description

Subscriptions and Periodicals: We have a newsletter called Tenesa which is published twice throughout the school year. Once in the Fall and again in the Spring.

Programming: In the fall we have a multicultural dance showcase. The money will go towards publicity, production (costumes, props, any equipment rental if necessary), and venue.

Costumes/Props: We have a dance subgroup (Zankiliwa!) that participates in various productions at school during the year. The money will go towards purchasing cloth and accessories for their performances.

RAW (Rhythms Around the World)

A showcase of dance from different cultures around the world. The show will include different dance groups around campus including our subgroup (Zankiliwa!). The show is open to everyone on campus. We will need funding for the purchase and tailoring of costumes, publicity for the event, and a venue rental.

Admission : $5.00

Mission Statement

Oasis is dedicated to spreading awareness of the beauty of African culture and serving as a resource for the UNC-CH campus and the surrounding communities. We strive to advocate for change and address social issues in the spirit of unity.

Budget description

Our expense request is wholly related to speakers. We are requesting for the honoraria and travel/lodging costs for three speakers over the coming year. The first is Mike Meyer, a Civil Engineering professor at Georgia Tech specializing in Transportation. He is not charging an Honorarium. His costs are solely a flight and hotel stay for one night. The second speaker is Lance Freeman, a professor of planning at Columbia University. He is charging a fee of $300. We are also asking to cover travel and lodging for one night. The last speaker is Douglas Kelbaugh. He is the Dean of Architecture at the University of Michigan. Dr. Kelbaugh is charging an honorarium of $2000. We are also requesting travel and lodging for two nights.

Mike Meyer

Dr. Michael D. Meyer is a Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering, and former Chair of the School of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology. From 1983 to 1988, Dr. Meyer was Director of Transportation Planning and Development for Massachusetts where he was responsible for statewide planning, project development, traffic engineering, and transportation research. Prior to this, he was a professor in the Department of Civil Engineering at M.I.T.

Dr. Meyer has written over 160 technical articles and has authored or co-authored numerous texts on transportation systems, planning and policy, including a college textbook for McGraw Hill entitled Urban Transportation Planning: A Decision Oriented Approach.

Dr. Meyer was recently appointed to the Executive Committee of the Transportation Research Board, the preeminent professional and academic organization of the transportation field. Dr. Meyer is not charging a speaker’s fee. We are requesting for airfare from ATL to Raleigh and one night lodging. $280 airfare is based on a roundtrip from Airtran (Expedia.com). The program will focus on a career in transportation planning... and his current research. It will be held at November the 15th at 5:00 p.m. in New East room 102.

LANCE FREEMAN

Lance Freeman is an Assistant Professor in the Urban Planning program at Columbia University in New York City where he teaches courses on housing policy and research methods. He is a graduate of the PhD program in the Department of City and Regional Planning at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Freeman has published several articles in refereed journals on issues related to neighborhood change, urban poverty, housing policy, urban sprawl and residential segregation. He recently published the book, There Goes the 'Hood. This book provides a more complete, and complicated, understanding of the gentrification process, highlighting the reactions of long-term residents. It suggests new ways of limiting gentrification’s negative effects and of creating more positive experiences for newcomers and natives alike. Dr. Freeman is charging a speaker’s fee of $300. We are requesting for airfare from New York to Raleigh and one night lodging. $225 airfare is based on a roundtrip from American Airlines (Expedia.com). The program will focus on gentrification on Dr. Freeman’s latest research in the field. We have scheduled the meeting to take place on February 7th at 5 p.m. in New East 102. We are also exploring Graham Memorial to expand seating capacity.

DOUGLAS KELBAUGH

Douglas Kelbaugh is the Dean of Architecture and Urban Planning at the University of Michigan. At the University of Michigan, he has started an urban design program and a real estate development program, as well as a community design center in Detroit. In 2007, he was selected as one of the top seven Architecture Educators of the Year by Design Intelligence. Doug Kelbaugh is a designer and planner of international renown; a leader in architecture, urban design, and community planning; an experienced educator; a prolific writer Dr. Kelbaugh is requesting a $2,000 honorarium. We are also requesting airfare from Detroit to Raleigh, and two nights lodging. $260 airfare is based on a roundtrip from US Airways (Expedia.com). The event is anticipated to take place on 3/27/08 at 5 p.m. in Graham Memorial. He will talk about new urbanism, transit-oriented development, and planning field today.

Mission Statement

Planners’ Forum is the organizational representative of the student body of the Department of City and Regional Planning at UNC. DCRP is one of the most well known planning programs in the country. It is the goal of Planners’ Forum to bring high caliber programming, representing each of the students’ specializations. We would like to increase our presence on campus and introduce undergrads to the field of urban planning.

Budget description

Please see below for a specific breakdown of costs.

1) Dr. Joe Groves Lecture: $550. Week of February 11th, location TBD.
2) Dr. Massad Lecture: $2390. February 20th, location TBD.
3) Immortal Technique Concert: $7300. February 2nd @ 7.00pm, Union Great Hall.

WHAT CAN WE DO? U.S. CITIZENS, U.S. POLICY, AND THE ISRAELI/PALESTINIAN CONFLICT

When: Week of February 11th.
Dr. Joe Groves will deliver a lecture on the role of the US citizen in the Israeli/Palestinian Conflict. He says, “The Israeli/Palestinian conflict is a central, governing feature of US policy in the Middle East. And it is not a conflict that is simply ‘over there.’ It is part of our society and culture and affects everyone in the US in multiple ways.” $500 Honorarium
$35 promotional materials
Dr. Groves will cover travel expenses himself.

THE GAY INTERNATIONAL IN THE ARAB WORLD

Joseph Massad Lecture
When: February 20th.
The GLBTSA and Solidarity with Palestine through Education and Action in Carolina (SPEAC) would like to bring Dr. Joseph Massad to speak at UNC on his new book, “Desiring Arabs”. Dr. Massad is Associate Professor of Modern Arab Politics and Intellectual History at Columbia University. He would specifically be lecturing on chapter 3 of his book, “Re-orienting Desire: The Gay International and the Arab World.
More information about Dr. Massad can be found on his web site,

$2000 honorarium
$90 lodging
$250 transportation:
- $150 flight (quoted by Delta)
- $100 taxi
$35 promotional materials

Note: We have contacted Women’s Studies, Sexuality Studies Program, and Provost’s Committee on LGBTQ Life for funding. We have already secured $200 and anticipate securing more in the coming days.

HIP HOP FOR PALESTINE

When: February 2nd @7.00pm
As part of the first ever Palestine Week at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, several student organizations are coming together to invite activist musicians from the “Free the P” compilation disk to campus, including Immortal Technique, the Iron Sheik and members from the Philistines.

(“Free the P” is a compilation of hip-hop and spoken word, dedicated to the youth of Palestine, inspired by the global struggle for peace and justice. Check out the CD here: http://www.freethep.com)

The purpose of such a Hip-Hop/activist concert is to bring the Palestinian situation into the minds of university students and the rest of the Carolina community. Immortal Technique has been outspoken and politically active on the Palestinian cause, and in particular, has generated a wide appeal to an impressive range of students (at the university and in the community) who may not otherwise familiarize themselves with Palestine. We feel that his music will convey the educational and humanizing message of the week in affective (and effective!) ways.

This concert is meant to foster a greater awareness and interest in the issue affecting the Palestinian people and how those issues relate to other groups, places, and situations around the world. $300 Production Services (estimated)

$75 promotional materials

Note, we may be forced to charge admission if we are not able to secure sufficient funding in advance.

"FREE THE P" CONCERT

Immortal Technique Concert $5000 Honorarium
$1200 Transportation
- $150 x 4 flights from nyc (quoted by Delta)
- $300 x 2 flights from california (quoted by Delta)
$360 lodging
- 4 rooms x 1 night

Mission Statement

The mission of SPEAC is to humanize the Palestinian-Israeli conflict by standing in solidarity with the Palestinian struggle for dignity, human rights, and justice.

Spring Fest 2008 - I’ll update this information before our meeting

Congress contributing $20,000 will bring us very close to the total we need for this event.
We are working with Jim Erwin from the Office of Development to find additional funding should our goals not be reached and in order to make the event sustainable in the future without extensive fundraising every year.
There are 3 other organizations involved that have not given money: Campus Y, CAA, and obviously Student Government, so this is as if SIX of biggest organizations on campus are asking you for money.
This is an event that is trying to reach EVERY student on campus and faculty and staff so your money will be put to good use with at least 12,000 students in attendance at the concert.

Item Cost
Use of the Dean Dome $10,000
Artist Cost for Boys II Men $30,000
Production Services for Boys II Men $12,000
Artist Cost for Girl Talk $15,000
Production Services for Girl Talk $1,000
Total $78,000

Budget for SpringFest 2008
Fundraising
Organization Funds Raised
CUAB RAISED $13,000
RHA RAISED $7,000
Student Affairs RAISED $7,000
Senior Class RAISED $2,000
Total Raised: $29,000
Late Nite Carolina (Security and Publicity) ASKED $6,000
Parents Council ASKED $15,000
PLUS Total Asked: $21,000
TOTAL POSSIBLE RAISED on campus $50,000

Mission Statement

to be a great event for students
The SBMC would like to request Executive Director Chad Johnston and Programming Director Jeremy Taylor of the People’s Channel, which is Chapel Hill’s public access station, to speak and train SBMC members, students, and selective community members on field editing and train attendees on studio production over a period of 7 weeks. The People’s Channel is requesting a non-profit fee of $400 for services. The SBMC would like to invite NBC-TV reporter and journalist Paul Matadeen to the UNC campus to speak on Christian media development for at-risk youth. Mr. Matadeen is requesting an honorarium of $375 and traveling fee of $25.

Budget description

Student Friends of the Ackland has planned a variety of events to enrich its members and the community. Only five of our programs need funding:

1. Mask Making for Kids (Oct. 12, held at the Ackland Art Museum)
2. Arts Hobby Workshop (Nov. 5, held on-campus)
3. YMCA Arts Education (repeated program, held at the Chapel Hill-Carrboro YMCA)
4. North Carolina Museum of Art Trip (Nov., Raleigh, NC)
5. Exam Break (Dec., held on-campus)

Mask Making for Kids

During the Ackland’s second Friday Art After Dark, parents are welcome to bring their children to decorate masks. Making the masks engages the children in a creative activity and helps them develop a love for art. This event brings the community to the Ackland and raise art awareness. Office supplies: 50

Arts Hobby Workshop

A UNC graduate student or instructor will be invited to teach art techniques to students who are interested in learning, but may or may not have the opportunity to take art classes. This workshop will be open to 20 members. Pen and ink drawing is a likely possibility. Office supplies: 125

YMCA Arts Education

Every other week, five to 10 student volunteers will be giving an art lesson to two groups of children (ranging grades K-8). All arts lessons will be hands-on and encourage art appreciation. This program will allow students to interact with the community and raise awareness of the Ackland among the younger community. Office supplies: 250
Student Friends of the Ackland would like to take a trip to the NC Museum of Art in Raleigh to view the exhibit “Landscapes from the Age of Impressionism.” This trip would enhance students’ knowledge and appreciation of art. It would also be an opportunity for students to visit a local museum outside of Chapel Hill. Student tickets to the exhibit are $12. Dues & fees: 240

This program was developed as an artistic and creative way to reduce stress during the final exam period. Making holiday ornaments is a relaxing and fun activity. Students can learn a new skill at the Ackland to share with their families over winter break. Office supplies: $50

Mission Statement

Student Friends is an organization that strives to promote learning, discovery, and engagement through art by planning and implementing interesting and exciting events at the Ackland Art Museum. Student Friends of the Ackland will bring art to life for the student body by presenting a variety of programs that are thought-provoking, relevant, intellectually stimulating, and entertaining.

Budget description

We are having a career-panel on 2/21. We also plan on holding a book making and paper making workshop in April. We would also like to purchase a storage bin to be more organized.

Career-Panel

Five to six art professionals on a panel will speak to students about pathways to obtaining a career in the arts. Panelists are volunteering their time to mentor students. Since the event will be held at the Ackland, we will need to hire one security guard. Security: $75/ hour for 2 hours = $150

Programming: (6 microphones and sound system program fee) = $60

Professional Labor: stage crew = $30

Book Making/ Paper Making Workshop

Professional craft artist will teach book making techniques to students. Book making is a non-traditional art form that many students are not exposed to. This workshop will require the majority of a day to complete the book making process from pages to binding. It will be open to 20 members. Speaker fee: (honoraria) $100

Storage and Organization

We would like to purchase a plastic storage bin to have a specific place to put organizational materials, including membership recruitment signs, paper work, and donated craft supplies. Office supplies: $30
Mission Statement

Student Friends is an organization that strives to increase student involvement in activities promoting art, particularly associated with the Ackland Art Museum. Student Friends of the Ackland will bring art to life for the student body by presenting a variety of programs that are thought-provoking, relevant, intellectually stimulating, and entertaining.

Budget description

For the 2007-2008 fiscal year, SPROUT currently has a budget of $162.50. Last spring, the organization requested $120.00 from Student Congress for Printing and Publicity but was only given $52.50 of that amount.

Now, we are requesting the $67.50 that we did not originally receive in the spring. This money will go to help us publicize our annual tax preparation service that we offer each spring through the IRS for low-income individuals in the greater Carrboro and Chapel Hill area at the Hargraves Center.

Specifically, we are looking to advertise our services to a greater degree than we did in the past, particularly with respect to public transportation services that are available in the area.

We therefore request an additional $67.50 from Student Government for Printing and Publicity, if at all possible.

Mission Statement

The purpose of Student Poverty Reduction Outreach (SPROUT) is to provide services to low-income individuals and raise awareness on the UNC campus and community about issues of local poverty. We are a grassroots organization that provides direct services to less-fortunate individuals, including free tax preparation through the IRS each spring at the Hargraves Center as well as other endeavors that help alleviate poverty at a local level.

PROTEST THE RNC 2008 - STOP THE WAR IN IRAQ!

Students for a Democratic Society will host a forum at UNC on February 27, to discuss lessons from the February 9-10 Organizers Conference to March on the RNC and Stop the War (protestrnc2008.org) and strategies to end the war.
The Organizers Conference is a grassroots initiative to bring together hundreds of activists and organizers from across the United States to help plan an demonstration against the war in Iraq in Minneapolis in September of 2008. UNC Students for a Democratic Society has endorsed this important demonstration and would like to send four
(4) students to the planning conference. We looked for the lowest airfare and found round trip tickets for $286 (US Airways via Orbitz.com). The total airfare would be $1144.00 for four people to go. Because the conference has concurrent workshops and plenaries, it is important to send several students in order to participate to the fullest extent possible.
When these students return, they will lead a campus-wide forum open to all students to discuss the limitations of the electoral system and the need for antiwar actions independent of the two mainstream parties. We will also be helping transport dozens of UNC students to Minneapolis for the Republican National Convention demonstration in September 2008 (just to clarify, we are not requesting funding for this trip at this time).

Additionally, we would like to print flyers to advertise for the forum. 250 * .045 = $11.25
Airfare: $286 x 4 = $1,144.00
Promotional material: $11.25
Total: $1,155.25

The Struggle for Chicano Rights

We would like to bring Carlos Montes to speak on “The Struggle for Chicano Rights” - the history behind the struggle for Chicano rights and how this ties into the immigrant rights movement today.

Carlos Montes was a co-founder of the Brown Berets and its former Minister of Information. He was a leader in the 1968 East LA ‘blowouts’ or walkouts against discrimination in public schools. Today, he is a leader in the immigrants rights movement and a member of Latin@s Against War.

We would like to bring Mr. Montes to speak on April 17, 2008. We have reserved Bingham 103 for that evening. Mr. Montes has requested an honorarium for $1,400. We checked for the lowest airfare and found a flight with American Airlines for $502. The total would be $1,902.

We would also like to print flyers for the event. 250 * .045 = $11.25 Airfare: $502
Honorarium: $1,400
Promotional material: $11.25
Total: $1,913.25

Mission Statement

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is a national organization which seeks to unite youth and students fighting for social, economic and political justice. UNC-Chapel Hill SDS functions to educate students and to support progressive movements and campaigns including but not limited to, the Iraq War, immigrant’s rights, and labor solidarity. We are a non-partisan organization open to anyone who shares our core values of justice, equality and freedom.

Notes

Did not fund the travel for four students to travel to MN.

Budget description

We print 3000 copies of each issue for $800 at Benson Newspaper Printing ($700 for printing costs and $100 to ship from Benson to Chapel Hill). We print two issues each semester. That brings our printing costs to $1600. Note: Benson costs much less to print and ship both issues than Tri-Printer of Chapel Hill quoted for one issue ($3700, 3000 copies without shipping).

We also print an orientation packet with training information for each staff member at a cost of $0.035 per page. We need 40 copies of the 15-page document each semester, a total of 1000 pages for $45. We also print publicity fliers. We estimate that we need 500 fliers each semester at $0.075, or $37.50. We need CDs to back up our files and mail PDF documents to our printer. Office Depot.com lists a 30-pack for $12.99. We go through many red pens and Sharpies during the editing process, so we need a pack of 48 red pens ($3.99) and a pack of 12 Fine-tip Sharpie pens ($11.99). To file clips and resources for our staff, we need 100 manila file folders (recycled, of course) for $7.99. We also need 3x3 in. packet of Post-It notes for $14.99 to help ease communication between staffers.

Budget description

The Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS will be held on the evening of Friday, March 28th 2008 in Memorial Hall. The current cost to rent Memorial Hall is $2,200. Since our goal is for all of the ticket sales to go directly to the HIV/AIDS charities, we are seeking outside funding to cover the entire cost of Memorial Hall. After the event, a reception will be held in the lobby of Memorial Hall. We will display information about the HIV/AIDS charities we sponsor, and other organizations will have representatives and information. All of the food will be donated by local restaurants. Therefore, the majority of our request is for venue rental.

This year, we will need $100 for programs and $100 for decoration and event signs. The remaining $400 will go toward advertising in local newspapers and the DTH, maintaining the website, and making posters and banners. We understand that Student Congress does not pay for advertising so we are only asking for $200 for printing and publicity.

The Dance Festival will be about 2 hours long and will feature about 5 on-campus performance groups and 5 community dance groups. After the performance, there will be a reception in the lobby with food, live jazz, and information about HIV/AIDS organizations. All proceeds will go directly toward the sponsored AIDS clinics (including the NC Alliance for AIDS Services in Orange County, and the Snehadaan AIDS clinic in a slum of Bangalore, India.) Over the past two years, the Festival has drawn in over 700 audience members and raised more than $6,000. $2,200 quoted by Memorial Hall for venue rental Friday March 28th, 2008
$500 publicity (printing of posters, banners, fliers)
$200 supplies for Health Fair Gala (decorations, lights, trifold boards for health organizations)
Admission : $7 for students, $10 for community

Mission Statement

Innovatively combining advocacy and the arts, the Triangle Dance Festival for AIDS committee works year round to bring together UNC-Chapel Hill and the Triangle’s best performing artists in collaboration and celebration, engaging the student body and local audiences in AIDS issues, and benefiting local and global direct-service AIDS clinics.

IRAQI DR. DAHLIA WASFI SPEAKS TO UNC STUDENTS ABOUT THE IRAQ WAR

Dr. Dahlia Wasfi was born in 1971 and spent her early childhood in Iraq, until she returned with her family to the United States in 1977. Dr. Wasfi graduated from Swarthmore College in 1993 with a B.A. in Biology, and in 1997 graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. In February/March of 2004, after years of separation, Wasfi visited Iraq to see her family in Basrah and Baghdad. She journeyed to Iraq again for a 3-month visit in 2006. Based on her experiences, she is speaking out against the negative impact of the U.S. invasion on the Iraqi people and the need to end the occupation.

In particular, Dr. Wasfi will address the humanitarian crisis in Iraq, the need for withdrawal of U.S. troops, the sanctions’ impacts on Iraq’s medical system, the status of healthcare in Iraq today, and the human toll of the invasion and occupation of Iraq.

Dahlia Wasfi will speak at UNC on the 21 February in Dey room 307 from 6-9pm and give a short speech at noon in the pit. She will arrive by car the morning of the 21st and depart the morning of the 22nd. Dr. Wasfi is flying into Asheville, NC to speak at UNC-A. There are no direct flights from Asheville to RDU. The average flight goes from Asheville through Philadelphia, Charlotte or Atlanta, takes 10-14 hours and costs over $600. Therefore, we have arranged with a UNC-A SDS member to drive Dr. Wasfi to UNC Chapel Hill the morning of 21 February.

Total mileage: 221 miles, 442 round-trip
Cost per mile: $0.445 per mile
Total transportation request: $196.69
Honorarium: $1,000
Total cost: $1,196.69

BUILD LARGE PUPPETS TO INCREASE AWARENESS ABOUT THE IRAQ WAR

Every year, there have been protests marking the anniversary of the U.S.-led invasion of Iraq. Students have historically had an especially important role in the struggles against racism and war, and we continue to do so today. Last March, over 500 students at UNC-Chapel Hill joined tens of thousands of students at 80+ high schools and colleges across the country who spoke out against the war. This year, UNC-Chapel Hill students for a Democratic Society is organizing a day of action on the 5th anniversary of the Occupation (March 19) in order to raise awareness about the war and how we, as youth and students, can end it.

One aspect of the day of action is to build giant puppets in order to visibly represent our role in the war’s perpetuation. With student congress support, we will build a giant dove, representing peace, with attachable wings that will be held by 6 students. We will also build 3 smaller figures, mounted on backpacks that will represent how we choose not to see, hear, or speak out against the war. Another aspect of this proposal is to empower other students to create political change through puppet-making. During another event that we are holding on Feb 21st in the Pit, we will work on the puppets, and teach fellow students how to construct them. Interested students will then be invited to participate in our weekly puppet building sessions from 1-4 on Sundays.

"We Will Not Be Silent" is a statement attributed to a student-resistance movement in Nazi Germany called The White Rose. It is a statement of purpose, intended to inspire acts of resistance and dissent against a corrupt government that abuses its power, and abandons the rule of law. The "We Will Not Be Silent" campaign takes place on hundreds of campuses across the country. SDS is aligning with Black Student movement to bring "We Will Not Be Silent" to UNC on March 19, 2008. 50 shirts with English and Naomi Nagy will give a 45-minute presentation about language endangerment, what her students have done to document endangered languages, and its implications to the loss of bio-cultural diversity. She will speak as part of the Linguistics department’s spring colloquium on April 5, 2008, at 11:45 in the Toy Lounge of the Dey building. She is a sociolinguist whose presentation will attract students across disciplines.

Reference: http://www.unc.edu/linguistics/colloquium.html

NAOMI NAGY ON ENDANGERED LANGUAGES

Naomi Nagy has agreed to give a 45-minute talk on endangered languages at 11:45 on Saturday, April 5, geared towards students of many disciplines. We have already reserved the Toy Lounge. Most of the Linguistics department’s graduate students and faculty will also witness the presentation. Students will be invited to eat lunch with Naomi Nagy after her talk. Naomi Nagy has asked for reimbursement for a flight from New Hampshire and a night at a hotel. The cheapest round-trip from MHT to RDU is $193, by Orbitz, Expedia and American Airlines. The remaining $63 will contribute to her stay at the Carolina Inn or similar lodging.

Mission Statement

Underling connects undergraduates with linguistics-related educational opportunities, such as discussions with faculty and chances to present undergraduate research.
